PROPOSE FAST INDUSTRIAL FLOOR LEAGUE HERE

Meeting Called For Wednesday

Walter E. Kirker, Physical Director Of Y. M. C. A., Sponsors Idea

HOPE TO HAVE EIGHT TEAMS

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Walter E. Kirker, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. announced today that plans were being devised whereby New Castle would have a fast eight team Industrial League this winter. It is the plan of Mr. Kirker and his associate Alec Samuels to revive basketball on a wider scale in this city.

In conjunction with the plans already outlined the first meeting of the year will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock on Wednesday night at which time all teams desiring to join the league are asked to have representatives present.

The following men will more than likely attend the meeting in the interests of their respective teams: Frazier of the Shenango Tin Mill; Coen of the P. R. R.; Stephenson of the P. & L. E.; Reichard of the Carnegie Steel Mill; Hunt of the P. & O. Electric; Donovan of the Reisch-Mahoning Company; Fulkerson of the Lehigh Cement; and Dreaman of the Conistory. It is asked that any others who care to take a franchise in the proposed league be present at the meeting.

New Castle has sponsored an Industrial League here for the past several years, but the league was never extended enough to make competition keen. It is the plan this year to have eight fast teams and to meet other industrial teams in this section at the close of the season for the purpose of elimination and championship honors.

To Have Officers

It has been suggested that the league organize on a wide scale not unlike the County Baseball League with officers and a board of directors to handle all disputes that may arise over legality of players and other matters.

There are many number of good basketball players in New Castle, this fact has been shown in the past years with the boys improving steadily each year a fast circuit can be arranged here if the interest permits.

The Lehigh Cement passers were the City Industrial League champs last year. The Cement boys put up a hard fight to attain their honor only after several hard games in which the P. R. R. team managed by Coen gave the Cement five plenty in the way of competition.

While basketball season is a few months away yet, it is hoped that enough interest will be taken in the league to get the plans under way perfected to such a degree that Wednesday and the organization perfected to such a degree that when it comes time to start the league can blossom forth.

HARRY PERSSON LOSES ON FOUL

Heavyweight Bout Is Slow Up Until Time Foul Occurs

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bud Gorman of Kenosha, Wis., won on a foul from Harry Persson of Sweden in the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night.

Referee Jimmy Crowley disqualified Persson for hitting after he had warned the Swedish boxer in earlier rounds.

Persson weighed 200 1-2 pounds and Gorman a half pound less.

The bout, which was the final of the card of four 10-round matches, was not exciting in the first four rounds. The fifth had continued for one minute 55 seconds when Persson was sent to his corner. In the boxing during the first four rounds Persson had an edge.

Both Gorman and Persson were told by the referee to keep their blows up. Persson was warned in three of the first four rounds to refrain from questionable blows.

The paid attendance was announced as 8,528.

Okun Defeats Blue

Yale Okun of New York was given the decision over Earl Blue of St. Paul. Okun weighed 173 pounds and Blue 172. The decision was greeted by booing by a part of the crowd. Blue dropped Okun for a count of nine in the first round.

ARMY-SYRACUSE CUT RELATIONS

Action Is Result Of Game In Which Players Were Injured

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Athletic relations between the United States Military Academy and Syracuse University have been temporarily suspended as an outgrowth of the Syracuse-Army football game at West Point October 16. Several players on each side were injured in the hardfought contest.

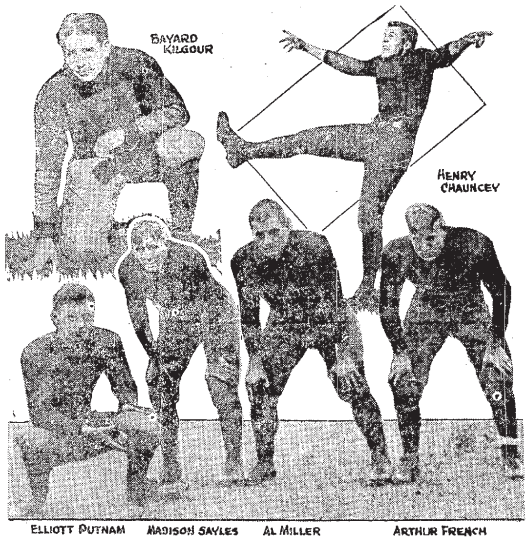
At a conference in New York City between Chancellor Charles W. Flint of Syracuse University and Brigadier General Merle B. Brewart, superintendent of the Military Academy, it was agreed that the situation involved no difficulties which could not be satisfactorily adjusted in time, but, without passing judgment on any past events that it is advisable to temporarily suspend athletic contracts until such time as may be mutually agreed upon by them".

Bowling League Planned At "Y"

Plans are being made for a bowling league at the Y. M. C. A. to be on an improved plan of what they had last year. As far as is known the church league is the only one that is certain.

All those wishing to enter this league will hand in their names and start practicing up.

Harvard Beginning to Show Horween's Efforts



A GROUP OF HORWEEN'S STARS

By Central Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—It took Percy Haughton a year to get his system under way at Harvard — and what a system it was!

Arnold Horween, last September, tackled the same problem Haughton did, that of bringing order out of football chaos (or pernicious serenata). Geneva and Holy Cross trounced the Crimson roundly while Horween was sizing up his material, injecting some football into what he had, and cleaning out the desk of his predecessor, so to speak. The Harvard team showed the first effects of Horween's labor against William and Mary and then demonstrated quite clearly in the game against the usually powerful Dartmouth team that the new coach is getting results.

It was apparent to close followers of football that Horween was building his team slowly and surely, paying more attention to the fundamentals of the game and instilling football "brains" into his proteges than to making a quick showing.

Against Dartmouth Horween suddenly turned loose a team that outplayed Dartmouth on the line, one that checked the great Dooley's outfield too, and then outrammed the Green team in the closing minutes of play.

Horween has the material for a good team. He has, among other things, a beautiful drop and place kicker in Chauncy. He has some good backs in Putnam, Sayles, Miller and Guarnaccia, Saltonstell and Meadows, at the ends apparently have the stuff that good ends are made of. Capt. Coady will demand all eastern and All-American attention at tackle. Kilgour, at center, plays a beautiful defensive game and is a sure passer for Chauncy and the forward passers.

French, the young man who sunk the Dartmouth team with his 48-yard run for a touchdown late in the game, is another man on whom Horween can bank in the big games coming. This young man was a substitute half when the Dartmouth game started. Horween may use him in the role of replacement back for just such feats.

It's too early yet to judge Horween. But apparently he has Harvard on the right road.

Grid's Best Joke

Army Penalized When Soldier Disconcerts "Enemy"

In the Army-Boston University game at West Point there was a humorous incident that was lost on the spectators. At one point the Boston quarterback, having rattled off a long signal, straightened up and asked:

"Did everybody get that?"

"Please, sir," piped an Army halfback, "I didn't."

Whereupon the umpire, smothering a grin, penalized the Army fifteen yards, in accordance with Section 7 of Rule XXI, which defines as unsportsmanlike "the calling by a player on defense of words or signals for the obvious purpose of disconcerting the offense."

Mullins Denies Latzo Will Not Fight Any More

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Denial that Pete Latzo, welterweight boxing champion had suffered paralysis of his right arm and would never fight again was made today by Paddy Mullins, his manager, after a telephone conversation with the Latzo home. Latzo cut his hand six weeks ago and blood poisoning developed.

Regal Five To Meet Tonight

All members of the Regal Five basketball team are asked to report at a meeting tonight scheduled for the Nader store at 7:30 o'clock. Plans for the coming floor season will be outlined and a team organized.

Among the high explosives are dynamite, T. N. T. and "what do your people amount to?"

Football And Golf

By Feg Murray

Fore! Score! Golf and Football! They mix like Tilden and Tennis, which is plenty well enough. Many a gridiron stars goes from Punts to Putts and becomes as famous on the links as he was in the line or in the backfield of some big college team. Eddie Briggs, of Princeton, is one of these; so is "Snake" Ames, of the same school; and "Brick" Thorne and "Sleep" Homans, of Yale; to mention only a few who have graduated from the rough game to the game that is played, too often, in the rough.

It isn't often, however, that an athlete combines football and golf during his college career, and starts at both sports. You've heard of Fred Lamprecht, of Tulane, intercollegiate golf champion in 1925 and 1926? Fred was one of the stars of the undefeated "Green Wave" of 1925, and helped defeat Northwestern, the team that beat Michigan in the mud; and helped tie Missouri, the team that beat Nebraska. Lamprecht exhibited as much "drive" on the gridiron as he did on the links, and starred both as an end and as a full-back.

Emerson Carey, twenty-year-old Kansas youth, is not content with being the leader of Cornell's 1926 football team. Like his coach, "Gloomy Gil" Dobie, he is a disciple of the Scotch pastime, and last year won the Western junior golf championship. On the football field, Carey stars at guard, and is a fine place-kicker as well.

Fielding H. Yost says, in his "My Thirty Years in Football," that it takes more science to make a good punt than a good putt. Many football coaches have tried both sports, and I doubt if all agree with Mr. Yost. Among the other coaches who successfully mix golf and football are the aforementioned Gil Dobie, Alonzo Stagg, "Pop" Warner, Tad Jones, (who has made a hole-in-one), Chick Meehan, Pete Reynolds and "Gloomy Gus Henderson. Walter Camp and Percy Haughton were both excellent golfers also.

Feg Murray Says—

"Speed" Torporcer, of the Cardinals, didn't figure much in the last world series, but the ticket "specs" did.

Winnipeg is to have a new athletic club with a club house to cost something like three-quarters of a million dollars.

High Gridders Idle On Monday

Coach Bridenbaugh Excuses Squad From Daily Practice Monday

MEET DONORA ON SATURDAY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

The New Castle High gridders were idle Monday afternoon at the order of Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh.

The boys were rather well used up in the terrific mud encounter of Saturday and the coach was of the opinion that a day's rest would be of benefit to them. "Tippy" Richards, the local left halfback, was the only New Castle player to be seriously injured in the Schenley High battle.

Richards suffered a badly sprained shoulder and will likely be out of the game for at least a week. More than likely Coach Bridenbaugh will save him for the Ellwood City game on Saturday, Nov. 13.

The locals are not disheartened over the loss to the powerful Schenley aggregation. The boys played a hard, fast game and were on their way to victory several times when the breaks went against them. There are no alibis to offer for the New Castle defeat, for the team tried hard, and that's half the game anyhow.

The team will resume training this afternoon for their scheduled contest Saturday that brings the strong Donora High eleven to Ben Franklin field. Donora, according to the dope this year, has a mighty fine team and they hope to avenge that defeat suffered here last year.

PETE LATZO MAY QUIT FIGHT RING

Welterweight King's Right Arm Is Hurt In Accident

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Boxing circles are alarmed by a report that Pete Latzo's days as a fighter were at an end. It was rumored here that the world's welterweight champion is suffering partial paralysis of the right hand as a consequence of the accident of which he was a victim some time ago while performing some household duties about his home in Scranton, Pa.

In falling from a ladder, Latzo injured his right arm, wrenching it in such a manner, it is reported, that he no longer can close his right hand. This accident occurred shortly after Latzo's bout here with Georgie Levino and necessitated a cancellation of a scheduled battle in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., against Joe Simonich.

Paddy Mullins, who, with Steve Latzo, manages the affairs of the welterweight champion, denied the truth of the reports and asserted that Latzo expects within a few weeks to resume training. Mullins admitted that the champion's right arm still required treatment, but added that he intends to seek a match for the titleholder for a date in December and denied that he had received any alarming reports from Latzo's home in Scranton.

Brown University used only 11 players in its gridiron victory over Yale.

Gustafson Was Team Mate Of Red Grange

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Vic Gustafson one of the leading lights of the Northwestern University football eleven played on the same high school team with Red Grange while the latter was laying the foundation for the most brilliant football career chronicled to date.

Both attended Wheaton Ill., high school and in Vics' freshman and junior years he was a member of the team with Grange the Iceman. He played a half along side Red in fact has played a half every since he took up the game in the backyard.

He is also a basketball varsity man and played on the same five with Red while the boys were in high school.

One of the usual day's dispatches regarding football activities at Yale stated that Hilekat substitute guard, received his chance in scrimmage practice.

This name recalls the "original" Hilekat of Yale one of the famous players of the old days. He, Heffelfinger, Glass and Brown were probably the four greatest guards Yale ever boasted.

Heffelfinger in particular was an ideal in his day. And the name "Heffelfinger" appeared in more football elevens during his career and the years that followed than that of any other player. Those were the happy days when sandlot and professional football were haphazard affairs. High school and college stars were hired into these games because they liked the sport or needed the money offered and were forced to play under assumed names to protect their amateur status. So they naturally adopted the name of some star. And usually it happened to be "Heffelfinger."

I was working on a daily paper in the middle west in those days and recall that the week end amateur games in the public parks one Sunday included 17 players named Heffelfinger."

Bobby Quinn president of the Boston Red Sox is about to take the great plunge.

Tired of trying to build up a winning ball club at St. Louis and then disposing through the medium of an experienced, brainy manager Quinn announces his determination to "lay off" the wise old heads and try for a "lucky" manager.

"It's high time we had a little luck" is the defense of his contemplated action.

Bobby doesn't mean to cast any onions at Bucky Harris as a manager but he points out that Griffith had remarkable luck when he named Harris pilot. The Senators won their first pennant under Bucky and have taken out of the ranks.

The only fly in the ointment as far as Quinn is concerned is the question as to whether or not he has a Bucky Harris on his team. But there always has to be something to ruin an idea like that.

North Street Junior Hi-Y Club To Meet

Members of the North street junior Hi-Y will meet Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting is called for 7:30.

This club held its first football practice on Thursday of last week and Coach John Leonard says that he expects them to have a fine team. They will begin scheduling teams in the near future.

Athletic Carnival At Grove City Is Planned By Thorn

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 2.—Since next Saturday is home-coming day at Grove City College, Athletic Director Thorn has arranged a big athletic carnival on the afternoon of that day. Two football games and a cross-country meet will be the events of the bargain bill. As a preliminary to the varsity St. Francis game, the crimson Freshman Reserve team will play the strong Slippery Rock Normal school team. Between the two games a cross-country race will take place between the Geneva team and the Grove City team.

The Slippery Rock-Reserve game promises to be a rival attraction to the St. Francis-Varsity contest. The Crimson Reserves are more than anxious to take over the Slippery Rock boys. Coach Thompson's Normal school boys have proven too strong for the Crimson Reserves in past years but the latter group of players believe that this is the season for their just triumph over the Slippery Rock eleven. Their play last Friday at California in holding the Normal team of that place to six points has encouraged the Grove City players to conclude that they can take their annual rivals into camp this fall.

West Virginia Team Crippled

Mountaineers Face Pitt Game Saturday With Three Regulars Out

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 2.—The "Blues," time-honored war cry of football coaches on the approach of an important game, today became the official song of West Virginia University mentors.

With three regulars missing the Mountaineer lineup as the result of the intersectional game with the University of Missouri game here Saturday, coaches looked forward to the approaching game with the University of Pittsburgh with no great rejoicing.

Eddie Morrison, quarterback, C. E. Lewis, tackle and Chester Latham, center, will not appear in the lineup this Saturday, trainer Art Smith announced.

Morrison is suffering from sprains, Lewis is reported to have a cracked rib, and Latham is being treated for lime burns and bruises.

Tokio School Girl Sets New Record

TOKIO, Nov. 2.—Fumi Terai, 16-year-old high school girl, has established a new world's record for women in the 100-meter dash at the Meiji shrine athletic carnival here. Her time was 12.7 seconds.

Many of the college teams appear to be more successful this year than last in scoring the point-after-touchdown.
